

YOUR QUICK START GUIDE

The Lead Machine

Paste one prompt, and in a few minutes you have 25 real businesses that fit, each with a real public way to reach them, right there in your chat. No install, no setup, nothing to figure out. Ask for more any time, and when you are ready, the same prompt helps you organize personal outreach from your own accounts.

WORKS IN CHATGPT OR CLAUDE

Get your first 25 leads in 3 steps

1

Unzip the download and open PASTE-INTO-CHATGPT-OR-CLAUDE.txt.

2

Select all and copy (Cmd A, then Cmd C).

3

Open ChatGPT or Claude, paste, and press enter.

It asks one thing first, cold outreach, warm network, or both. Say cold. Then it checks what it already knows about you. If it can tell what you sell and who you serve, it just goes. If not, it asks you one question, who your ideal clients are (or just paste your website link), then it goes and finds 25 real businesses that fit, each with a real public way to reach them, and lists them for you in the chat. That is it. You do the pasting once, it does the work.

What lands in your chat

A clean, numbered list of 25 businesses in your target market. For each one:

Their name

A real business or person that fits, not a job title or a guess.

What they do

Their work and company, so you know why they are on your list.

Why they fit

One line matching them to the kind of client you asked for.

How to reach them

A real public contact route: the email they publish, their contact page, or a book-a-call link. It never makes one up.

Want more? Just ask.

After your 25, say "more" and it finds another 25, no repeats. Keep going as long as you like. Most people happily stay right here, and that is perfectly fine.

Use Claude Code, Codex, or Gemini CLI? Open the unzipped folder in it and say "go". Same 25 leads, found by a small script that comes in the folder, and it remembers everyone it found for you across days so you never see a repeat. Read START-HERE.txt inside the folder.

→ Already have a network? There is a second gear built into the same prompt. Turn the page for Warm Network, the mode that works your own LinkedIn and inbox.

THE ADVANCED MODE

Warm Network

Your cold list is only the start. Warm Network turns the people who already know you, your LinkedIn connections, the people who comment on your posts, the replies in your inbox, into real conversations. It finds the ones quietly showing they need what you do, and writes each a personal first message in your voice.

Who this is for: if you already have an audience, a following, or a full inbox, this is where the real leverage is. It works the relationships you have already earned, not strangers, so the replies come warmer and faster.

What it does

Reads your own accounts

With your permission, it connects to your LinkedIn and inbox through your browser, and only ever looks at what you choose to show it.

Finds the warm ones

It surfaces people whose own words show they have the problem you solve, and shows you their quote as the reason. No quote, no listing.

Screens them for you

It drops your existing clients, your close circle, and anyone you have already messaged, so you never send an awkward or repeat message.

Writes in your voice

A short, personal first message for each, about them and their own words. Never a template, never a pitch.

AUTO-DETECTS CHATGPT OR CLAUDE

Turn it on in the same chat

1

After your cold list, just say "warm" (or "advanced").

2

It works out which AI you are on and walks you through the Chrome extension, one step at a time.

3

Log into your LinkedIn and inbox in that browser. Then it runs the loop with you.

The loop, whenever you want it: find the warm people, check them against your do-not-contact list, draft a personal first message for each. You get a numbered list, you pick the ones you like.

THE ONE RULE

It writes the messages, but you read and send every one yourself, from your own account. Nothing is ever sent automatically. Small, personal batches keep your reputation and your accounts safe.
